KEY FINDINGS

What a treat to compile the annual Cabernet Sauvignon Report on behalf of multinational financial services provider Prescient! 2015 has been billed as one of the great vintages of the modern era and based on this tasting, the hype is completely justified. Whereas there were 15 wines out of 65 to rate 90 points or higher on the 100-point quality scale in the 2017 report, this year there were 40 out of 89 (23% versus 45%).

In 2017, eleven wines or 17% of the line-up were from the 2015 vintage whereas this year, 50 or 56% were. Out of the 40 wines to rate 90-plus, 25 were from the 2015 vintage. Once again, Stellenbosch dominated with 30 of the top 40 wines from this district. Average price of the top 40 wines was R292.97 a bottle (ranging from R120 for the Glenelly Glass Collection 2015 to R980 for the Rust en Vrede Single Vineyard 2015).

What's so exciting about these wines? The 2015 growing season was one of the driest and earliest in some time and it would appear that this has done Cabernet Sauvignon plenty of favours. Bud break was early and even, cooler temperatures than usual in February were ideal for ripening, while the dry conditions also contributed to a very healthy crop with almost no losses to disease or rot.

The result is wines of particular power. The best show ripeness of fruit and tannin without sacrificing complexity and finesse. Again and again, the panel was impressed by the palate density on display but what was remarkable was the detail and refreshment value still in evidence, elements that often get lost in lesser vintages.

It has been said that deciding on picking date is the most important task a winemaker faces and there were a few wines where grapes might have been harvested a little earlier to avoid a resulting jamminess. Conversely, there were wines which appeared unduly green or medicinal or even minty - pyrazines (the chemical compound responsible for this) are inherent to the variety but it will always be a point of debate just how much of this character should be present. Those examples from vineyards planted in the maritime locations of Constantia and Durbanville often seem particularly vegetal while leafroll virus also doesn't help when it comes to achieving optimal fruit expression.

There were a handful of wines which suffered from over-extraction – whereas winemakers are often more cautious and calculated when it comes to achieving colour, flavour and structure in lesser vintages, it seems like some got carried away in 2015!

On the whole, however, a timely reminder why so many consider Cab to be king. The best that the panel tasted are dark, deep and tannic – not necessarily wines to be drunk young but rather wines to be cellared so that they can reach their full potential. Investment wines, you might say.

JUDGING PROCEDURES

The judging panel was chaired by myself and further consisted of two trusted colleagues, namely Hennie Coetzee, taster for Platter's South African Wine Guide, and Roland Peens of Wine Cellar, a Cape Town firm which brokers and cellars fine wine. We tasted blind, ratings done according to the 100-point system. Final scores were awarded on the basis of discussion that involved retasting where necessary rather than relying solely on arithmetic averaging.

TASTING NOTES

95

Nederburg The Manor House 2015

Price: R162

Total production: 90 000 bottles

Abv: 14.7%

A blend of 86% Cabernet Sauvignon (sourced from Paarl and Groenekloof), 12% Merlot and 2% Tannat. Matured for 18 months in a combination of new, second- and third-fill barrels, 93% French and 7% American oak.

Red and black fruit, some floral perfume, fresh herbs and attractive oak on the nose. The palate shows great fruit density without sacrificing freshness, while the tannins are particularly fine. Very well put together.

94

Neil Ellis Jonkershoek Valley Stellenbosch 2015

Price: R350

Total production: 7 120 bottles, 102 magnums, 20 3-litre bottles, 12 5-litre bottles

Abv: 14.5%

Matured for 18 months in 300-litre French oak barrels, 100% new. Black fruit, just a hint of fresh herbs and attractive oak on the nose. The palate is full but balanced – excellent fruit expression, fresh acidity and firm but fine tannins. Intensely flavoured and very long on the finish, this is built to last.

93

Delaire Graff Reserve 2015

Price: R750

Total production: 7 000 bottles

Abv: 14.5%

Matured for 18 months in French oak barrels, 100% new. Red and black fruit, violets, pencil shavings and oak spice on the nose while the palate is rich and full but perfectly balanced. Layers of flavour and very long on the finish.

93

Kleine Zalze Vineyard Selection 2015

Price: R139

Total production: 90 435 bottles

Abv: 14.89%

Matured for 20 months in French oak barrels, 40% new. Red and black fruit, a herbal note, spice and some earthiness on the nose. Rich and ripe on the palate with smooth tannins, this is a blockbuster!

93

Strydom Rex 2015

Price: R265

Total production: 2 200 bottles

Abv: 14.7%

Matured for 18 months in French oak, 40% new. Cassis, graphite and a little reduction on the nose. Extraordinary depth of fruit, bright acidity and firm tannins make for a wine of particular weight and power.

93

Zorgvliet 2016

Price: R140

Total production: 5 272 bottles

Abv: 14.35%

Matured for 18 months in French oak barrels, 21% new and then a further four months in tank. Red and black fruit, some herbal character, violets and attractive oak on the nose. Relatively medium-bodied with pure fruit, fresh acidity and fine tannins, the finish long and savoury. Elegant and refined.
